

Over 100 companies to attend Oman Health Exhibition and Conference

Our Correspondent
Muscat

More than 100 local and international companies will participate in the fifth edition of the Oman Health Exhibition & Conference which will be held at the Oman International Exhibition Centre from September 7-9.

The opening ceremony of the event will be held under the patronage of H E Dr Ahmed bin Mohammed bin Obaid al Saeedi, Minister of Health. Organised by OmanExpo and supported by the Ministry of Health (MoH), the event will see institutions showcasing a range of personal care products, diagnostic and laboratory equipment, pharmaceutical products, physiotherapy and orthopaedic technology to services that range from eye care, skin-care, cosmetic and infertility treatment consultancy.

Visitors can avail free consultations from specialists of clinics

L-R: Nader Abbas, Dr Mahmood al Rahbi, senior consultant emergency medicine at Al Nahdha Hospital and Dr Taha al Lawati, senior consultant general surgeon from The Royal Hospital at the press meet (Muscat Daily)

and hospitals in Germany, Iran, India, UAE, Thailand, Malaysia and Turkey. Adding value to the exhibition will be the B2B meetings. Addressing a press conference on Monday, Nader Abbas, general manager, OmanExpo, said, "We have been working closely with MoH to ensure that the conference and exhibition discuss the current issues in Oman's health sector and align with the government's strategies outlined in the Health Vision 2050."

The conference will showcase investment opportunities in Oman's healthcare sector, the future of medical genetics, healthcare management and emergency medicine.

SQU attends Silk Road Universities Network's inaugural meet in S Korea

Muscat - The Sultan Qaboos University (SQU) recently participated in the founding meeting of the Silk Road Universities Network (SUN).

SUN, which is a network of universities in countries through which the Silk Road ran, was formed during a four-day inaugural general assembly held from August 21 to 24 at Jeonju, South Korea, stated a press release.

